Subject: Proposal for a Council Regulation on a European private company
- Political agreement

I. INTRODUCTION

1. On 27 June 2008, the Commission submitted to the Council a proposal for a Council Regulation on the Statute for a European private company (hereinafter referred to as "SPE"). The proposal is based on Article 352 of the TFEU<sup>1</sup>.
2. The objective of the proposal, which is one of the key elements of the "Small Business Act for Europe", is to create a new instrument to enhance the competitiveness of small and medium-sized enterprises ("SMEs") by facilitating their establishment and operation in the Single Market, by providing for a flexible corporate law regime across the EU and by reducing the compliance costs which arise at the stage of setting-up and operating of SMEs.

3. Upon consultation, in accordance with Article 308 of the TEC, the European Parliament adopted its opinion on the proposal on 10 March 2009.<sup>2</sup>
4. On 4 December 2009, the Competitiveness Council discussed the outstanding issues on the basis of a Presidency compromise text (16115/09 ADD 1 + COR 1). However, as delegations' views as to those issues remained divergent, the Council could not reach political agreement and thus, requested its preparatory bodies to continue examining the proposal.
5. Accordingly, further to the meetings of company law attachés on 24 January, 18 February and 13 May 2011, the Permanent Representatives Committee discussed on 30 March and 18 May 2011 the outstanding issues on the basis of Presidency compromise texts<sup>3</sup>.
6. While broad agreement has been reached on most parts of the revised Presidency compromise text (set out in 9713/11), delegations' views remain divergent as regards in particular the following, closely inter-linked, issues:
  - seat of an SPE;
  - minimum capital requirement;
  - employee participation.
7. An outline of these issues can be found in Part II below. The Presidency compromise package is set out in Part III, while the overall Presidency compromise text appears in the Annex to this note. Changes to the previous text (9713/11) are underlined.

II. MAIN OUTSTANDING ISSUES

Seat of an SPE (Article 7)

The Commission's proposal allowed the SPE to have its registered office and central administration in different Member States. Although, this proposal was supported by several delegations, a number of delegations are in favour of prohibiting such separation of the registered office and the central administration. Other delegations would have preferred the matter to be governed entirely by national law.

Capital (Article 19)

The Commission's proposal providing for a minimum share capital of EUR 1 for the SPE was supported by the majority of delegations. A few delegations, on the other hand, indicated their preference for a higher minimum capital requirement.

The latest Presidency compromise suggestion, which sets out that the capital of the SPE should be at least EUR 1, while allowing Member States to set a higher minimum capital requirement of a maximum of EUR 8,000 for SPEs registered in their territory could be acceptable to all but one delegation.

One delegation suggested linking the issue of minimum capital requirement to that of the seat and provide that Member States allowing SPEs registered in their territory to have their central administration in another Member State should set a minimum capital requirement of EUR 8,000 for those companies. The vast majority of delegations opposes this suggestion.

Employee participation, information and consultation rights (Articles 35 and 35e)

As regards the issue of employee participation rights, Member States have very different traditions and arrangements in their national law. Many delegations do not have such requirements applicable to their national private-limited liability companies, while other delegations expressed worries about the possible loss of rights acquired under national law and that the use of SPE could undermine national employee participation requirements.

On this aspect of the proposal, the outstanding issue remained that of the threshold above which the rules on employee participation foreseen in the proposal would apply, and whether there should be a single or a double threshold.

Furthermore, one delegation requested reiterating that employees' rights to information and consultation, as provided for by the relevant national and Union laws, must be ensured.

III. PRESIDENCY COMPROMISE PACKAGE

With a view to finding a balanced compromise solution to the outstanding issues that would be acceptable to all delegations, the Presidency suggests the following compromise package:

On the seat (Article 7, recital 6a)

The Presidency suggest to provide that the registered office and the central administration or principal place of business of the SPE should be in the European Union in accordance with the applicable national law. Furthermore, a recital relative to the seat sets out that Member States should, where necessary, ensure that SPEs are not used for the purpose of evading the SPEs' obligations in the territory of the Member State where they are established.

On the capital (Articles 19 and 48)

The Presidency's proposal is unchanged: to set out that the capital of the SPE should be at least EUR 1, and allow Member States to set a higher minimum capital requirement of a maximum of EUR 8,000 for SPEs registered in their territory; and to set out a specific reference to the minimum capital requirement in the review clause in Article 48.

On employee participation (Articles 35 and 35e):

The Presidency suggests to

- set out a single threshold of at least 500 employees habitually working in a Member State that provides for a higher level of participation rights for employees than is provided for those employees in the Member State where the SPE has its registered office; and in cases of transfer of the registered office to provide that the rules on employee participation should apply where at least 1/3, but not less than 500, of the employees of the SPE habitually work in the Home Member State, and the employees in the Home Member State were provided with a higher level of participation rights than is provided for those employees in the Host Member State;
- to provide that Member States should ensure that the existing rights of employees to information and consultation are applied also in situations where the SPE has employees in different Member States, or where employees are situated in a Member State other than where the SPE has its registered office;
- to make a specific reference to the employee participation thresholds in the review clause in Article 48.

IV. CONCLUSION

The Competitiveness Council is invited, at its forthcoming meeting on 30 - 31 May 2011, to discuss the outstanding issues as addressed by the Presidency compromise package, set out in Part III of this note with a view to reaching political agreement on the draft Regulation.

Revised Presidency compromise text

Proposal for a

COUNCIL REGULATION

on a European private company

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 352 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission,<sup>4</sup>

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament,<sup>5</sup>

Whereas:

- (1) The legal framework in which business is carried out in the Community remains largely national. This exposes companies to a wide diversity of national laws, company forms and company law regimes. The approximation of national laws by means of directives based on Article 50 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union can overcome some of these difficulties. Such approximation, however, does not release persons seeking to create companies from the obligation to adopt in each Member State a company form governed by the national law of that Member State.

- (2) Existing Community forms of company, notably the European company (SE), whose legal form was established by Council Regulation (EC) No 2157/2001 of 8 October 2001 on the Statute for a European company<sup>6</sup> are designed for large companies. The minimum capital requirement for an SE and the restrictions on its formation make that form of company unsuitable for many businesses, in particular of a smaller size. In view of the problems faced by such businesses as a result of the diversity of company law regimes and the unsuitability of the SE for small businesses, it is appropriate to provide for a European company form specifically designed for small businesses, which it is possible to create throughout the Community.
- (3) Since a private company (hereinafter "SPE") which may be created throughout the Community is intended for small businesses, a legal form should be provided which is as uniform as possible throughout the Community and as many matters as possible should be left to the contractual freedom of the members of the company, while a high level of legal certainty is ensured for members, creditors, employees and third parties in general. Given that a high degree of flexibility and freedom is to be left to the members to organise the internal affairs of the SPE, the private nature of the company should also be reflected by the fact that its units may not be offered to the public or traded either on a regulated market or on a multilateral trading facility. In the interest of legal clarity, employee share schemes should be explicitly allowed. Issuance of other financial instruments should be governed by national law.

- (4) In order to enable businesses to reap the full benefits of the internal market, the SPE should be able to transfer its registered office from one Member State to another.
- (5) To enable businesses to gain efficiencies and save costs, the SPE should be available in every Member State, with as few variations as possible as regards the company form.
- (6) First and foremost, the SPE should be governed by the substantive rules set out in this Regulation. Nonetheless, in order to ensure a high degree of contractual freedom it is appropriate to provide for a list of matters, to be set out in an Annex, in respect of which the members of the SPE may lay down rules in the articles of association. Furthermore, in matters where it is explicitly allowed by this Regulation, members should also be able to adopt rules in the articles of association that are different from the substantive default rules set out in this Regulation. In relation to those matters only Community law should apply, and consequently members should be able to set out rules to regulate those matters, which are different from the rules prescribed by the law of the Member State where the SPE is registered, in relation to national forms of private limited-liability companies listed in Annex II of the Regulation. However, if members do not or only partly use the contractual freedom in matters listed in Annex I provided for by this Regulation, in those matters national law shall supplement any omission. National law should also apply to further provisions in the articles of association that are not covered by this Regulation or its Annex I. National law should also apply, provided it is not incompatible with Community law, to matters that are not regulated by the Regulation, such as insolvency, employment and taxation, or to matters that are only partly regulated by it.

- (6a) The registered office and the central administration or principal place of business of the SPE should be in the European Union. However, whether or not the registered office and the central administration or principal place of business should be in the territory of the same Member State should be determined by national law applicable to national private limited-liability companies. Member States should, where necessary, take appropriate measures in conformity with Union law with a view to preventing the misuse of an SPE established in their territory for the purpose of attempting to evade the SPE's obligations in the territory of that Member State [...].
- (6b) Member States should aim to ensure that the provisions they adopt in relation to this Regulation in order to ensure its effective application do not result in disproportionate restrictions in the rules applicable to SPEs or in discriminatory treatment of SPEs as compared with private limited-liability companies governed by national law.
- (7) In order to make the SPE an accessible company form for individuals and small businesses. Member States should allow the SPE to be created ex nihilo, as a result of the transformation of existing national legal bodies, or merger. In order to facilitate the creation of an SPE by way of transformation, the Regulation should provide for the rules of the transformation procedure. Any explicit or implicit prohibition or restriction applicable to the transformation of legal bodies into a national private company with limited liability should also apply when forming an SPE. However, all Member States should allow the formation of an SPE by the transformation of the private limited-liability companies listed in Annex II. Formation of an SPE by merger should be governed by national law.
- (7a) So that Member States may protect the pre-existing rights of members, creditors, employees and third parties in general, the transfer of registered office to another Member State may not be carried out at the same time as the formation of an SPE by transformation takes place. However, SPEs may subsequently transfer their registered office to another Member State.

- (7b) To ensure the compliance of the SPE with the rules generally applicable to company names, national provisions on the protection and control of company names should apply. Existing companies, firms or other legal bodies the names of which either contain the letters “SPE” or are followed by the abbreviation “SPE” should not be required to change their name or that abbreviation.
- (8) In order to reduce the costs and administrative burdens associated with company registration, the formalities for the registration of the SPE should be limited to those requirements which are necessary to ensure legal certainty and the validity of the documents filed upon the creation of a SPE should be subject to verification, which may take place either before or after registration. For the purposes of registration, it is appropriate to use the registries designated by First Council Directive 68/151/EEC of 9 March 1968 on the co-ordination of safeguards which, for the protection of the interests of members and others, are required by Member States of companies within the meaning of the second paragraph of Article 58 of the Treaty, with a view to making such safeguards equivalent throughout the Community.<sup>7</sup>
- (8a) To facilitate the formation of an SPE, Member States may draw up model articles of association that entrepreneurs may use as an example when they set up their company. However, the application of the model articles of association shall not be made mandatory.
- (8b) Since Member States follow different traditions with respect to the nature of the participation of members in a company's capital, the unit of the SPE's capital should be either a share or a part, depending on the provisions of the applicable national law. A member should be either a shareholder or an associate, depending on the provisions of the applicable national law.

- (9) Since small businesses often require long term financial and personal commitment, they should be able to adapt the structure of their capital and the rights attached to the units of capital to their specific circumstances. The members of the SPE should therefore be free to determine the rights and obligations attached to their units, the procedure for the variation of those rights and any restriction on the transferability of the units.
- (10) [Deleted]
- (11) The SPE should not be subject to a high mandatory capital requirement since this would be a barrier to the creation of SPEs. Nonetheless, Member States should have the possibility to determine the minimum capital for SPEs registered in their territory subject to the limits set by this Regulation. Creditors should be also protected from excessive distributions to members which could affect the ability of the SPE to pay its debts. To this end, distributions that leave the SPE with liabilities exceeding the value of the assets of the SPE should be prohibited. In addition, Member States should have the possibility to require the management body of the SPE to sign a solvency certificate. Those Member States should also lay down provisions on the liability of directors of the SPE with respect to the statement.
- (12) Since creditors should be granted protection in the event of a reduction of the capital of the SPE, certain rules should be laid down concerning when such reductions are to take effect.

- (13) Since small businesses need legal structures that can be adapted to their needs and size and are able to evolve as activity develops, members of the SPE should be free to determine in the articles of association the internal organisation which is best suited to their needs. The general assembly of members should be the main decision-making body of the SPE. An SPE may opt for a sole director, two or more individual directors, a unitary or a dual board structure. Any concept of de facto directors or shadow directors in national law should apply. Mandatory rules ensuring the protection of minority members should be introduced in order to avoid any unfair treatment of members, in particular certain key resolutions should be adopted by a majority of no less than two-thirds of the total voting rights attached to the units of the SPE. The general principle of equal treatment of members in the same position should apply.
- (14) [Deleted]
- (14a) Due to the differences in the national regimes as regards financial assistance to third parties, the expulsion and withdrawal of members and the general duties and liabilities of directors, these matters should be governed by national law.
- (15) Competent national authorities should monitor the completion and legality of the transfer of the registered office of an SPE to another Member State. The timely access of members, creditors and employees to the transfer proposal and to the report of the management body should be ensured.

- (16) Employees' rights of participation should be governed by the legislation of the Member State in which the SPE has its registered office. The SPE should not be used for the purpose of circumventing such rights. To that end, where certain conditions are fulfilled, SPEs should start negotiations with the representatives of employees on arrangements for employee participation in the SPE.
- (16a) A trans-national employee participation system established in accordance with Articles 35-35d includes both an agreement on arrangements for employee participation and an employee participation system based on the standard rules.
- (16b) Participation rights should be deemed to be reduced when the proportion of the members of the supervisory board or of the administrative board elected, appointed, recommended or opposed by the employees is lower than the highest proportion existing in the Member States concerned.
- (16c) This Regulation does not impose any obligation on Member States to introduce rules on employee participation for the private limited-liability companies listed in Annex II.

- (17) Employees' rights other than rights of participation should remain subject to Council Directive 2009/38/EC of 6 May 2009 on the establishment of a European Works Council or a procedure in Community-scale undertakings and Community-scale groups of undertakings for the purposes of informing and consulting employees<sup>8</sup>, Council Directive 98/59/EC of 20 July 1998 on the approximation of the laws of the Member States relating to collective redundancies,<sup>9</sup> Council Directive 2001/23/EC of 12 March 2001 on the approximation of the law of the Member States relating to the safeguarding of employees' rights in the event of transfers of undertakings, businesses or parts of undertakings or businesses<sup>10</sup> and Directive 2002/14/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 11 March 2002 establishing a general framework for informing and consulting employees in the European Community.<sup>11</sup> In particular, Member States should ensure the rights of employees to information and consultation in conformity with the relevant national provisions and the above-mentioned Directives.
- (18) The Member States should lay down rules on sanctions applicable to infringements of the provisions of this Regulation, including infringements of the obligation to regulate in the articles of association of the SPE the matters prescribed by this Regulation, and should ensure that they are implemented. Those sanctions must be effective, proportionate and dissuasive.

- (18a) To ensure that the documents and particulars of SPEs are accessible through the registers of all Member States, Community initiatives - such as the European e-Justice portal or the Internal Market Information System - or other initiatives - such as the European Business Register - aimed at facilitating the Community-wide access to business registers of all Member States should be promoted and used.
- (19) The Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union does not provide, for the adoption of this Regulation, powers other than those under Article 352.
- (20) Since the objectives of the proposed action cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States in so far as they involve the creation of a company form with common features throughout the Community and can therefore, by reason of the scale of the action, be better achieved at Community level, the Community may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity laid down in Article 5 of the Treaty. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary to achieve those objectives,

HAS ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

9. The protection of any minority members who oppose the transformation and any additional protection of the creditors of the transforming legal body shall be governed by the national law applicable to the transforming legal body. 0. Without prejudice to this Regulation, the name that an SPE may take shall be governed by the applicable national law.
1. The name of an SPE shall be followed by the abbreviation "SPE".

Only an SPE may use the abbreviation "SPE".

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, companies, firms and other legal bodies registered in a Member State before the date of entry into force of this Regulation, the names of which contain "SPE" or are followed by the abbreviation "SPE", shall not be required to modify their names or that abbreviation.

Article 7

Seat of the company

1. An SPE shall have its registered office and its central administration or principal place of business in the European Union in accordance with the applicable national law.

Article 20

Consideration for units

1. In the case of units acquired for consideration in cash, the member shall pay up on acquisition at least 25% of their value. In any case, an issue premium must be paid in full at the time of the acquisition of the unit.

However, on formation, at least an amount that is equivalent to the minimum capital requirement set in accordance with paragraph 3 of Article 19 by the Member State in which the SPE has its registered office shall be paid up at the time of acquisition of the units. Where the capital of the SPE is higher than the minimum capital requirement in that Member State, 25% of the amount by which the minimum capital requirement is exceeded shall also be paid up.

The member shall pay the remainder of the consideration when called upon by the management body, unless otherwise prescribed in the articles of association. In any case, the consideration shall be paid in full at the latest 3 years from the date of the acquisition of the unit.

The calculation shall be based on the most recently adopted balance sheet. Changes in the capital or the reserves which may not be distributed which have occurred subsequent to the closing date of the financial year shall be taken into account. Where the part of the capital that is not paid up is not included in the assets shown in the balance sheet, this amount shall be deducted from the amount of the capital.
2. The amount of a distribution to members may not exceed the amount of the profits at the end of the last financial year plus any profits brought forward and sums drawn from reserves available for this purpose, less any losses brought forward and sums placed to reserve in accordance with the articles of association of the SPE. The calculation shall be based on the most recently adopted balance sheet.
3. If the articles of association allow for the payment of interim dividends, the following provisions shall apply:
  - (i) interim accounts shall be drawn up showing that the funds available for distribution are sufficient, and

- (ii) the amount to be distributed may not exceed the total profits made since the end of the last financial year for which the annual accounts have been drawn up, plus any profits brought forward and sums drawn from reserves available for this purpose, less losses brought forward and sums to be placed to reserve in accordance with the articles of association of the SPE.
4. Member States may require that at least 15 days before a resolution under Article 28(e) to make a distribution is agreed by the members, the management body must certify in writing that, having made full inquiry into the affairs and prospects of the SPE, the directors have formed the reasonable opinion that the SPE will be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the normal course of business in the year following the date of the proposed distribution (a "solvency statement"). The solvency statement must be signed by the management body and a copy of it must be provided to the members before the resolution on the distribution is taken.

The solvency certificate shall be disclosed in accordance with Council Directive 68/151/EEC of 9 March 1968.

Recovery of distributions

Any member who has received distributions must return those distributions to the SPE, provided that the SPE proves that the member knew or in view of the circumstances should have been aware of the fact that the distribution was made contrary to Article 21 or that the solvency statement should not have been made.

Own units

1. The SPE shall not, directly or indirectly, subscribe for its own units.
2. An SPE may purchase its own units, unless the articles of association prescribe otherwise.

An SPE may only purchase its own units from the amount available for distribution in accordance with Article 21. The units may not be purchased by the SPE unless they are fully paid.

The SPE shall always have at least one unit carrying voting rights held by a member different from the SPE.

Article 22 shall apply.

3. The right to vote and other non-pecuniary rights as well as the pecuniary rights attached to the SPE's own units shall be suspended, while the SPE is the registered owner of its own units.
4. [Deleted]
5. Units acquired by the SPE in contravention of this Regulation or of the articles of association shall be transferred or cancelled within one year of their acquisition.
- 5a. Where the SPE cancels its own units, its capital shall be reduced accordingly. For this purpose Article 24 shall apply.

This Article shall apply mutatis mutandis to any units subscribed or acquired by a person acting in his own name but on behalf of the SPE or by a legal body in which the SPE holds a majority of the voting rights or on which it can exercise a dominant influence as defined in Article 24a of the Directive 77/91/EEC.

Article 24

Capital reduction

0. The capital of the SPE may be reduced either to offset losses or to make a distribution to the members.
1. The resolution of the members to reduce the capital shall state the purpose of the reduction.

If the purpose of the capital reduction is to make a distribution to the members, the management body of the SPE shall notify its known creditors directly, without undue delay, about the reduction of the capital.

The resolution of the members shall be disclosed.

2. The capital may not be reduced below the amount determined by Member States in accordance with paragraph 3 of Article 19.
- 2a. Except for the case where the purpose of the reduction of the capital is to offset losses incurred by the SPE, those creditors whose claims antedate the disclosure of the resolution and which have not fallen due by the date of that disclosure shall have the right to request the SPE to provide them with adequate safeguards.

Requests for adequate safeguards shall be submitted within 30 calendar days of the disclosure of the resolution.

The SPE shall be required to provide safeguards if the creditor credibly demonstrates that due to the reduction of the capital the satisfaction of his claims is at stake, and the SPE has not provided him with adequate safeguards. Member States may, however, prescribe that creditors shall always have the right to obtain adequate safeguards from the SPE. In this case, paragraph 3 shall not apply.

The management body shall reply to the request for adequate safeguards of the creditor within 30 calendar days of the submission of the request.

3. If the SPE does not provide adequate safeguards or the creditor considers the safeguard unsatisfactory, the creditor shall have the right to apply to the competent court for an order that the SPE provide the creditor with adequate safeguard. An application shall be made within 30 calendar days of the response of the SPE to the request or in the absence of a response, within 60 calendar days of the submission of the request.

The court may order the SPE to provide safeguards if the creditor credibly demonstrates that due to the reduction in the capital the satisfaction of his claims is at stake, and that no adequate safeguards have been obtained from the SPE.

- 3a. Any further safeguards provided to the creditors under the applicable national law by confirming capital reduction through court order may also apply.

4. A capital reduction shall take place as follows:

- (a) [Deleted]
- (aa) where, in accordance with the third subparagraph of paragraph 2a, Member States prescribe that the creditors shall always have the right to obtain adequate safeguards, as soon as the SPE has complied with all its obligations to provide such safeguards;
- (b) where no creditor has submitted a request to the SPE within 30 calendar days of the disclosure of the resolution of the members on the thirty-first calendar day following that disclosure;
- (c) where the SPE has creditors at the time when the resolution is adopted and a request has been submitted to the SPE by a creditor within 30 calendar days of the disclosure of the resolution of members and no application is made to the court, on the ninety-first calendar day following the disclosure of the resolution;
- (d) where the SPE has creditors at the time when the resolution is adopted, a request has been submitted to the SPE by a creditor and an application is made to the court within the deadline set out in paragraph 3, on the first date on which the SPE has complied with all orders by the competent court to provide adequate safeguards or, if earlier, the first date on which the court has determined, in relation to all applications that the SPE need not provide any safeguards.

5. If, as a result of a reduction of the capital, a distribution is made to the members, paragraphs 1 and 4 of Article 21 and Article 22 shall apply accordingly.
6. If the purpose of a reduction of the capital is to offset losses incurred by the SPE, the reduced amount may be used only for this purpose and shall not be distributed to the members.
7. A capital reduction shall be disclosed.

- 3a. If more than one form of participation is prescribed by the law of the Member States concerned, the special negotiating body shall decide which of those forms must be established in the SPE. The special negotiating body shall inform the SPE of any decisions taken pursuant to this paragraph.
4. The special negotiating body shall decide on the allocation of seats in the administrative or supervisory board among the members representing the employees from the various Member States or on the way in which the employees of the SPE may recommend or oppose the appointment of the members of these bodies according to the proportion of the employees of the SPE in each Member State concerned.

Article 36

General provisions

1. The registered office of an SPE may be transferred to another Member State in accordance with this Chapter.

The transfer of the registered office of an SPE shall not result in the winding-up of the SPE or in any interruption or loss of the SPE's legal personality or affect any right or obligation existing before the transfer.

2. An SPE may not transfer its registered office if proceedings for winding-up, liquidation, insolvency or suspension of payments or other similar proceedings have been brought against it, or in respect of which preventive measures have been taken by the competent authorities to avoid the opening of such proceedings.
3. A transfer shall take effect on the date of registration of the SPE in the host Member State. From that date, for matters covered by paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 of Article 4, the SPE shall be governed by the law of the host Member State.

At the same time, the report shall be made available at the registered office of the SPE to the creditors.

Where the management body receives the opinion of the employee representatives on the transfer within 21 calendar days from the date of submission of the report, that opinion shall be attached to the report.

4. Members may reserve the right to make the implementation of the transfer conditional on their express ratification of the arrangements with respect to the participation of employees in the host Member State.
5. The protection of any minority members who oppose the transfer and of the creditors of the SPE shall be governed by the law of the home Member State.

Where an SPE is supervised by a national financial supervisory authority according to Community directives the right to oppose the change of registered office applies to this authority as well.

Review by a judicial authority shall be possible.

3. Within one month of the receipt of the certificate referred to in paragraph 2, the SPE shall submit the following particulars and documents to the competent authority in the host Member State:
- (a) the certificate provided for in paragraph 2;
  - (b) the transfer proposal, as approved by the members;
  - (c) the particulars and documents listed in points a)-m) and mb) of paragraph 2 of Article 9.

Article 9 and paragraphs (1) and (4) of Article 10 shall apply accordingly.

4. Within a period stipulated by the Member States that shall not be longer than one month of the receipt of the documents and particulars referred to in paragraph 3, the competent authority of the host Member State shall decide whether documents and particulars referred to in paragraph 3 are complete and whether the relevant provisions of the law of the host Member State are complied with. If that is found to be the case, the competent authority of the host Member State shall take the measures necessary for the registration of the SPE.
